

The CRACK O' NOON CLUB

BRIAN MACALPINE

Piano, Keyboards, Cajun Accordion

The maestro himself, he plays with Session A9, The Pearlfishers, Transatlantic Sessions, and has produced and played on 67 albums to date. His latest gig has been with Kris Kristofferson at 2016 Celtic Connections

GRAHAM FLETT

Bass, Double Bass, Vocals.

Long term collaborator, tourer and co- songwriter with the Jims, Graham has played with Big River Shiver, Songhunter, The Raggaeals and has his own well acclaimed solo album Single Track Roads.

WENDY WEATHERBY

Cello, Vocals

Cello player to the stars, Wendy has appeared on over 30 albums ranging from Jazz to Folk to downright unclassifiable!

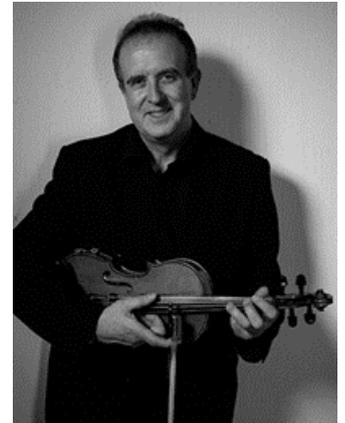

As well as being a founder member of the Crack O Noon Club, she has released three solo albums, appeared in The Wellpark Suite, The Ship, A Scots Quair, and has also starred as an actress in many touring productions around Scotland.

GORDON GUNN

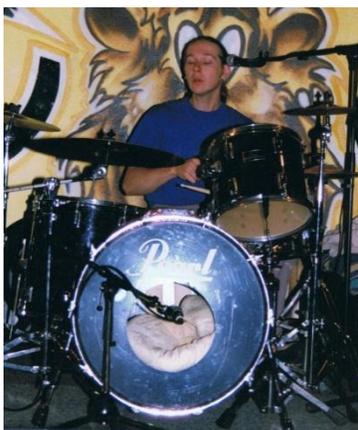

Fiddle and Mandolin

Hailing from Wick, Gordon plays with Session A9 and is a long term collaborator with Brian Macalpine on the STV music shows. He's played session on over 50 albums, as well as his own three solo albums. He'll be bringing a lot of talent and a bit of bluegrass to the proceedings.

JAMIE ASH

Drums, percussion, vocals

From the island of Arran, and the other half of our twin turbo engine room, Jamie has played with The Jim Hunter Band over the last 20 years, a core member of Songhunter and Big River Shiver, and the only man that shakes a banana in 15/7 time

JAMES MACKINTOSH

Drums and Percussion

Capercaillie, Shooglenifty, Swamptrash, Celtic Connections, Transatlantic Sessions, the list could continue for ever. James is simply the most in demand drummer and percussionist in this country, and after you hear him you'll know exactly why!

NICK TURNER (Sound)

Piloting the mixing desk with his usual aplomb, Nick is the man from Watercolour Studios in Ardgour. A founding member of the Crack O' Noon Club, he may make a very rare appearance on the stage (just don't tell him that!).
